Capt. S. H. Fletcher of the board of selectmen received a letter last week from Mrs. Agnes Parker, president of the W. R. C., requesting some one to represent the town in Boston this week Wednosday evening, when silk flags vere to be presented to five towns in middlesex county. Capt. Edward Fishor was present on that evening and ceived the gift of the flag in behalf of Westford. Mrs. Parker has conducted two outings of the W. R. C. to this town in past years, one to the Parker farm, owned by her husband, Charles W. Parker, of the New Eng-land House, Boston, the other at Nabnassott pond. On account of several courtesies from town officials at these times this courtesy came our way.

Easter Sunday was fittingly observ-ed at both churches. At the Congreentional church in the morning an excellent musical program, with a full choir, was given under the direction of Mrs. Colburn, with Miss Colburn at the organ. There were special decorations and at the evening service the Easter time was the theme of the service. At the Unitarian church services were resumed after a few weeks' interim and an impressive Easter service was held at four o'clock. Rev. A. R. Hussey preached the ser-mon and Mrs. George A. Spalding, soprano, and Mrs. Nano G. Leahy, contralto, both of Lowell, assisted the chorus in the musical program. Miss Precious was at the organ and there were suitable decorations.

The Easter dance under the management of the Legion post, Monday largely attended. Curtis' colored or-chestra of Baston furnished music for dancing and ice cream and cake were furnished at intermission.

Children's day in the Tadmuck club was very successful this season. There was a good attendance of members parents and friends at the Unitarian vestry on Tuesday afternoon to hear the program given by the children Miss Doris York was heard in a num-ber tor recitations, and Miss Betty Prescott gave special dancing. Miss Nellie F. Hill of Groton and Boston, who for nearly twenty years has been chief assistant head resident and director of clubs and classes at the Frances E. Willard settlement in Bos-top, is to be made general manager of the settlement, thus relieving Miss Caroline M. Caswell, its founder, of part of her responsibility. Miss Cas-well will continue in the office of president. To Miss Hill's interest in the club activity of the settlement, its en-tire success in this line is attributed. Miss Hill is a native of Groton, be-ing the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, and is a graduate of Lawronce academy.

Col. James Barnes of New York gave an illustrated lecture at the Copley theatre, Boston, on Monday after-noon, March 29, for the benefit of the Champagne-Argonne fund. Colonel Barnes' lecture was on his experiences in Central Africa and he showed many interesting pictures of the natives and wild animals. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Barnes of New York and Lenox, and a brother of Mrs. S. Warren Sturgis of Boston and Groton. Among those occupying boxes were Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis and their young sons, Somers and Warren. Miss Susan Bainbridgo Sturgis, the débunleca of Col. Barnes, was in tante charge of the ushers, most attractive in white gowns with shoulder sashes of the French colors, red, white and blue. In this group was Miss Sturgis' sister Edith. Among the large number who brought children, whose onjoyment of the pictures was very evident, was Mrs. James Lawrence.

Mrs. James Lawrence and Miss Anne Morgan are sailing from New York on Wednesday, April 14, to take up their work again in the interests of the American department of devastated France. The bazaar held on March 18 and 19 for the benefit of this work made a bigger success than even anticipated, netting nearly $9000, making a total of $225,000 to put to the credit of the Boston division. The Boylston street rooms were closed after the bazaar week, as the New England quota for the fund had been oversubscribed.

Miss Lillian W. Kano has been in Groton for the Easter holidays.

Groton oversubscribed its quota to the fund for America's gift to France. This campaign was carried on among the children in the schools and Sunday schools and $22 was raised.

Notice has been received from head quarters of the N. E. M. P. A. that ducs are now payable for the first quarter of 1920. The W. C. T. U. enjoyed a very interesting meeting at the White Ribbon Home last week Friday afternoon, not-withstanding that the day was dark and rain, and guite a number braved the storm and came out. Three new members were admitted to the union. The Westford W. C. T. U. were again obliged to postpone their visit, having been twice disappointed on account of weather conditions. At the close of the husiness session the members and guests repaired to the spacious diningroom, where a generous supply of cake and ice cream was served by the com-mittee, Mrs. Mabel Murphy, chairman, and assistants. John J. Carr, of South Pepperell, was before the district court on Thursday morning charged with operating a motor vehicle without proper number plates. Mr. Carr, who lives on the state road between Groton and Townsend, stated that he went to Townsend on April 2 to buy medicine for his baby, who was sick. He stated that he had sent for his 1920 number plates but that they had not arrived. Officer Feich, of Townsend, who made the complaint, said that Mr. Carr did not have his license with him, but this charge was not pressed. The defendown. ant was found guilty and the case ordered placed on file.

The Ward Eight club of Robert Burns lodge, I. O. O. F., held a very enjoyable progressive bid whist party for men only on Tuesday evening at the lodge rooms. There were between forty and fifty present. Walter Winslow and Harvey Winslow captured the high score for the evening, receiving a box of cigars as a prize.

There was a very large attendance at the church school, over 200 being present, and many say that both the morning service and the exercises at the church school period were the best ever held in that place. An attentive audience of Easter day vorshippers gathered at the Methodist church on Sunday morning. The pastor's address on "The last victory" was unusually eloquent and thought-producing, and the music was excellent. The organist, Miss Dunton, rendered as the opening voluntary, "Unfold, ye portals," by Gounod. For the pro-cessional the march song, "Win the world for Jesus," was rendered by a large chorus choir, and was followed by a hymn by choir and congregation and prayer by the pastor. The re-sponse was a duct, "The three crosses," Mrs. C. E. Marchant and Miss Flor-ence O'Neal, and was followed by special Easter responsive reading, and taking up that branch in the state uninging "Gloria" by all. The anthem preceding the sermon was "Glorious victory," and the final recessional, "The son." The soloist expected in the program of the morning was not able to be present, but the music was most effectively rendered and reflects credit on organist, choir and chorister. An Easter concert, under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Marchant was given in the evening at seven o'clock, the audience being surprisingly large considering the storm. Nearly every par-2d asst. Clement had white potatoes, onions, beans and beets already up. The family say they will never spend another winter in the north.

Mrs. Starr also relates making a call on Mr. Hall and family, who came to Green Cove Springs from Pomfret, Vt., about thirty-live years ago. They have a fine, comfortable house built in New England style and surrounded with cedar, camphor and mulberry trees, and wisteria in abundance with its lovely purple racemes of bloom The air was fragrant with yellow jasmine and the visitors were treated to two kinds of honey, his best being Devens. the palmetto and gallberry rom northerners could make good in the south even starting with a moderate sum like $1500. If they would put but $500 or so into a house and the rest into stock, then build up gradually "There is no need of failure in Florida if people would try," he claimed, but "most everyone from the north wants too much house."

Mrs. Starr speaks of her stay there as most interesting-plenty of good literature-and also speaks of gaining much knowledge of the way they are planning for good roads in the south, through the son of Mr. Hall, who is iversity. There were specimens of the different material that had been put together and pressed into bricklets and stone cakes and other substance which would be used in their road building. The writer goes on to say, "after all

It is with a feeling of deep gratitude that we extend our heartfelt thanks to all who by word and deed helped to sustain us in our recent bereavement, and for the beautiful floral tributes of love and esteem. is dono and said, here are greater pos-sibilities right here at Green Cove Springs than at some of these other places if the people only cared to boom the place." In this connection, she says that Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sapp—Mrs. Sapp being a northern girl —who went to Palatka awhile ago, have now returned to Green Cove Springs.

Mrs. Starr says, "so many people with asthma, consumption and other like diseases, come to Florida expect-ing to make a living. They live from fifteen to twenty years longer than they would in the north. With the knowledge of so many people sick with colds and influenza at the north during the past winter, this much I have decided: That I would say to any good family in New England if they wanted to come south, I would furnish to camping places for all who wanted a to bit of God's warm sand in the sunlight, to rest on, free. I rather think I may give a few building lots, 50 foot front, away, to just the people who would be our kind of neighbors."

Mrs. Starr speaks of going several times to the new place, Winter Park, and that it strikes her as a place that s going to be all right to invest in. In conclusion she mentions coming home, or north, but does not care to hasten, as the waters have been so high she fears delays by washouts by all and unsafe bridges.

Mrs. Emma Lemley, speaker at the Woman's club on Tuesday, was entertained by her friend, Mrs. Frank Ames.

Rev. B. W. Rust has been in Boston this week, going on Tuesday, in at-tendance on the New England con-ference of Methodist churches, to be held in People's Temple, April 6-12, inclusive. He has arranged to return here to preach on Sunday, instead of giving the people a no-service conference Sunday, as formerly. By the action of the fourth quarterly con-ference of this church Mr. Rust is to be returned to this pastorate by ap-pointment of the bishop for another year.
