The program was in charge of Mrs. Hester Proctor, it consisted of card games and stunts, followed by a social hour. Songs by Mrs. Charles Richards were much enjoyed. The large birthday cake which was cut and served by Mrs. Hannah Foss was most interesting and will be remembered because it is seldom one has the privilege of tasting a cake bearing eighty-eight candles. Birthdays Anniversary. On May 21 Mrs. Hannah R. Foss celebrated her birthday. Mrs. Foss is remarkable for her age, looks and seems many years younger. She belongs to the club and is an active member, doing her share in the entertaining. She is efficient in all kinds of embroidery and crocheting. On her birthday she wore a new veil given which she cut and made all by hand. It is indeed up-to-date, although the skirt is a little longer than some and measured two yards at hem. Those present at her dinner were her three daughters, Mrs. Edith Austin of Cambridge, Mrs. Etta Jones and husband of Townsend and Mrs. Nell Jones and husband, with whom she resides, her grandson and wife of Manchester, two great granddaughters, Misses Mona and Mildred English of Cambridge, Mrs. M. C. Jones, N. H. She had many gifts and a very handsome birthday cake with eighty-eight candles, made by Mrs. Jones. All the decorations were of the national war veterans, made the day doubtless memorable to her. In the afternoon her grandson took her for a ride in his motorcycle sidecar, which she greatly enjoyed.

NOT HOW THEY LOOK, BUT HOW THEY SERVE

There is more to a pair of glasses than mere style. A prinz- nez or a pair of gold rimmed spectacle may present an elegant appearance, but their value lies in how well they correct your particular defect of vision. The important—the vital part of obtaining glasses—is in securing a proper diagnosis of the defects of vision. Only professional men of knowledge, skill and experience can render satisfactory and dependable service along this line, and when such assistance is required a visit should be made to some one of recognized ability.

Union Memorial services were held at the white church on Sunday last. The G. A. R., W. R. C., S. of V. and A. L. attended in a body, listening to a tribute to those who gave their services to a country's cause by Rev. George Kent, minister at the Unitarian church. Rev. William Gussman of the Baptist church read the scripture and Rev. A. W. Ryder offered the prayer. The church was packed to its full seating capacity, over 200 being present. A chorus of voices from the three churches sang two anthems. Mrs. Alice Cleaves and Mrs. Annie Huskell singing the duet and Miss Scorsie and Mr. West the solos. The service was grand and inspiring throughout. Following the service a moving picture was taken of those attending, as they left the church, by Leon E. Daddum. Miss Helen Stone played the organ.

On Monday the usual Memorial services were held at the burial grounds and soldiers' monuments. The 13th Infantry band accompanied the veterans on their trip and gave the march to the march that adds so much to the impressiveness of the ceremonies. The holiday as usual brought many friends and relatives to Harvard. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hildreth, with their three children, were at the Hildreth home. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Atherton with Mrs. Charles Atherton at the Atherton farm on Bare hills. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hirsch's on Lovell's lane. Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Royal of Worcester at Dr. and Mrs. Rowell's. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tibb of Cambridge at Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hazard's. Mrs. Edith Axtell of Boston with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. Gardner Haggood. Mr. and Mrs. D. Chauncey Brewer and family at Springbrook farm. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolan and family at Hillcrest. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Cobb at Questend farm. Miss Viola Parker from her school duties in Leominster with her mother, Mrs. A. D. Parker. Quincy Bull and daughter, Ruth Bull, spent the holiday at Mrs. H. Emma White's, and Mr. Bull is to remain there for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atwood, with the children, Ruth and Philip, stayed over the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gale. Harvard A. A. and Littleton A. A. played a snappy game of ball on Bromfield grounds on Monday afternoon. The Littleton boys had the game apparently all bottled up tight with a two-run lead up to the eighth inning. Sumner and Dickson opened the inning for Harvard with some hot hits, a three and a two-bagger. Things moved some after that, the Harvard boys getting down to business, won by a score of 10 to 9. George McMahon proved a very popular umpire.

A gathering of 15,000 attended the services on Memorial Sunday in Fenway Park, Boston. The hymns were "Hail! Our Great Song of Peace," an anthem written by Miss Clara Endicott Sears, with music by John H. Deansmore, with a chorus of 800 voices and played by a military band of fifty pieces.

Next Saturday at the hall the feature will be "Constance Binnay and her stone kiss," based on the book, "Little Miss by the day" by Lucille Van Slyke. This is a beautiful picture and you will surely enjoy it. News and comedy.

Clipping. The following clipping taken from the New London "Day" will be interesting to friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold here.

"Through recently issued naval orders another important change will be made at the submarine base upon the detachment of Lieut. J. James E. Arnold, morale and athletic officer, who will be remembered as a star football player on last season's team and instructor at the minstrel show held at the lycium theater and surrounding towns. He reported at the base October 1, 1918, assuming the duty of personnel officer and later those of morale and athletic officer. In his two and one-half years at the base, he has accomplished much for athletics and morale. Not only did he supervise all matters of an athletic nature, but also was one of the strongest factors in the actual games themselves. In Lieut. Arnold was found the happy combination of an athlete and an executive, he could manage a game, stage a play or make a speech just as readily as he could play a good game of football or promote a smoker. The present excellent morale conditions at the base are credited to have been brought about and kept going by Lieut. Arnold."

Lieut. Arnold reported for duty at Portsmouth on Tuesday and expects to sail with the submarine fleet for Cuba on June 10. From there the fleet goes to San Pedro, Cal., via the Panama canal. Mrs. Arnold, with baby Barbara, will leave for Los Angeles so as to meet the fleet on its arrival at California. From thence via a U. S. transport Mr. Arnold will return to the submarine fleet to accompany the fleet to Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, Hawaii, Guam and Manila. There the officers, with their families, on a thirty-day leave, will transport to China and enjoy a visit to the Orient. After a stay of about a year at the Philippines they will return to the United States. The entire trip, as now proposed by the naval department, is to take about three years. Mrs. Arnold is at the present having here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. West.

An excellent dinner consisting of beans, scalloped potato, rolls, coffee, pie, etc., was served by Mrs. A. E. O'Connell, W. W. R. C. and Legion and also to the caterers who accompanied them. It is estimated that there were nearly 200 at dinner, a second table being set for the exercises in the soldiers' graves in the Center cemetery were decorated and the usual exercises were held at the soldiers' graves in the Common. Lawrence Kenison of Ayer gave Lincoln's "Gettysburg address" here with great effect. Selectman Robert H. J. Holden spoke a few words of welcome to the visitors. At the close of the exercises Mrs. O. A. R. left for Ayer to decorate the graves in the two cemeteries there.

The two-acre farm on Clark road has been sold to Willard O. Parker of Fitchburg, who is already moving in. The sale was made through W. A. Russell of Fitchburg.

A word of commendation is due the officers of Shirley Grange who had in charge the Memorial day exercises. The dinner was excellent and was well received. The number of guests was much larger than had been expected. When it is realized that this was a rainy day, nothing out of this but the feeling of a task well performed, it will be seen that a word of gratitude at least is due them.

The sentiment of the general public would be in favor of making an example of anyone who would do such a dastardly trick. Woman's Club Play. Other Pepperell matter on page 4. A Dastardly Trick. One of the most malicious acts which has recently been noted, happened on last Saturday, the pet dog of Mrs. C. W. Williams being the victim. The animal was an English English bull dog, staying at its own home. Last Saturday afternoon parties were notified by Mrs. Williams near the stock house at the rear of her home on Mill street. Later, the dog strayed away in the direction of the street, and was well attended by its cries, in great agony in the hedge near the house. Antidotes for poison were administered and an attempt made to revive its life, but it died in great distress on Sunday. Mrs. Williams' sorrow is too great to permit her to wish to prosecute such a party, and she has been very plain, and a party who came to Mrs. Williams shortly after the at-

The procession moved to the Prescott hall for the exercises of the afternoon, which were opened by a selection by the band. "Marching through Georgia" short addresses were given by P. Taylor; M. Luther Boynton spoke on "In Memoriam," for the G. A. R., and Harold Gray for the Frank West post, A. L. songs "Singing on the old camp ground," solo part by Harold Gray, fourth stanza by quartet, Miss Elizabeth Wright, Mrs. Drawbridge, G. M. Nash and Rev. R. Memorial Day in Schools. The observance of Memorial day in the town schools took place on Friday afternoon, with patriotic fervor, and unusual points of excellence in the exercises. A new feature at the Clara M. Shattuck school was introduced, to the advantage of children and guests. As there are now over 250 pupils in the building any one room, or room and corridor, proved inadequate. By strenuous work on the part of teachers and pupils, a part of the third story was made ready for the Friday exercises. Although the room is unfinished, the tables were covered with electric lights and all modern conveniences. Later in the season many of the tables will be removed to the place, which is very popular. About 150 were in attendance. A beautiful Grange supper of the usual boiled beans and salads, with excellent variety of pastries, was served at the close of the evening in the lower hall under the direction of Mrs. Lucy Perry to about 150 people. A goodly sum was reported as the proceeds from the recent entertainment. Memorial Day Exercises. A cloudy morning on Memorial day gave way to bright sunshine before an hour had passed and the rain of the preceding night made the air fresh and beautiful. As a day set apart for the commemoration of the sacrifice of those who gave up their lives in the stress and strife of battle, the glory of such surroundings might seem to be at variance with the thoughts and feelings of those who have been most vitally interested in our great world war. During the hours of the forenoon the graves of the soldiers in all the cemeteries were visited by those decorated for the duty by some members of the G. A. R. A service was held at St. Joseph's church, also, during the forenoon, at which Rev. Fr. Cronin, headmaster of the G. A. R., addressed the members of the parish and also of the Legion, who were present. The feature which made the day different from those in former years, was the tolling of the church bells. The Methodist church bell was ordered to be tolled for five minutes just at noon and the bell of the Community church was tolled as the procession was passing it to go to the cemetery in the afternoon. The procession, which formed at Saunders' corner at two o'clock, was under marshal of the day, Joseph Howard, The members of the G. A. R. and American Legion were escorted by thirty Boy Scouts and about twenty Girl Scouts, and the whole was headed by the Nashua City band. They met at the Thomas A. Parker post lot
